NO DEARTH OF MONEY HERE

Indianapolis Banks Have Plenty to Loan to Those Who Offer Good Security.

Exchange Scarce, Collections Good and Trade Brisk-Condition of the Local Grain, Produce, Vegetable and Other Markets.

MONEY AND STOCKS.

Indianapolis Bankers Have Plenty of the Former-Conditions at New York. Perhaps never in their history were Indianapolis banks in better condition than they are to-day. Last week the associated banks of the city had $2,700,000 in their Vaults in excess of the 33 per cent, required by clearing-house rules. Money is plenty and the market is easy. Mercantile loans are made at 7@8 per cent., the latter rate for short time and small loans. Good paper is in demand and scarce. Exchange is also scarce, which is an unusual thing at this season of the year. Generally the fall movement of crops makes exchange a drug on the market here, but this is not the case just now. One banker attributes the scarcity to the fact that wheat is being held back by farmers, and that the new crop of corn has not yet begun to move in sufficient volume to call much money from the East. He thinks unless a change comes soon currency will have to be shipped to New York to supply the demand of merchants here for exchange. The large daily deposits of wholesale dealers indicate that collections are good though a few complain of difficulty in securing prompt payment in isolated localities. There is a slight increase in the demand of country bankers for money, and a few are drawing on their balances in the local banks. The clearances yesterday of the six associated banks were $700,050.04. against $768,198.40 for the same day last year. The balances were $81,569.95, while for the same day last year they were $557,-

MONEY AND STOCKS AT NEW YORK. At New York yesterday money on call was easy, ranging from 3 to 5 per cent. the last loan being made at 3, closing of-Prime mercantile paper 5@61/2 per cent.

Sterling exchange was quiet and firm at $4.80 to for sixty-day bills and $4.83 tor demand.

The total sales of stocks were 240,879 shares, including the following: Atchison, 14,620; Chicago Gas, 30,000; Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, 34,220; Delaware & Hudson, 6,763; Erie, 9,330; Louisville & Nashville, 4.010, Missouri Pacific, 3,826; Northern Pacific preferred, 28,025; Reading. 18,260; St. Paul, 21,919; Union Pacific, 7,100. The stock market yesterday presented a dull and listless appearance, and no nominal progress was made as a rule. The bears continued their attacks upon the coal shares, and while they marked off the prices of those shares to a material extent their success in the rest of the list was not flattering. The opening was dull and lifeless, and while there was for some time considerable buying of their favorites by London and the West, the improvement was slight, except in the industrials, about which there has of late been a great deal of bull talk affoat. The firm tone was maintained. however, throughout the forenoon, after which the attack upon the coalers was made, and the ease with which they were depressed caused a heavy feeling in the remainder of the lists, and prices were brought down below those of the opening. The fluctuations in the general list, bowever, were in few cases for more than small fractions, though a few stocks were traded in over a range of 1 per cent. Delaware & Hudson, however, dropped from 125% to 121; Jersey Central, 112 to 110, and both Reading and Lackawanna nearly 2 per cent. The violence of this drop failed to create any sensation in the general list and, though the pressure was maintained till the close, prices yielded slowly. The market presented no features of interest beyond the weakness and the strength of the industrials, especially the Cotton-oil stocks and Distillers. The close was fairly active and heavy at the lowest prices, which in most stocks were only slightly lower than those of

Wednesday evening. Delaware & Hudson, however, lost 34, Jersey Central 2, and Reading and Lackawanna, each 1%. Railroad bonds were quiet and without feature, even the speculative issues showing no animation and prices being kept within the narrowest bounds. Sales of $1,-181,000 measured the day's business, and only slight changes are shown by the final Government bonds were dull and steady to firm. State bonds were dull and steady.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

Cereals Easier, but an Increased Demand for Corn-Prices Slightly Lower. No sales of grain were reported on the Indianapolis Board of Trade yesterday; in fact, few are reported any day. This does not indicate, however, that no business is done. Though prices are fixed on 'Change, and bulletiped, nearly all transactions are made through regular brokers, whose offices are crowded during business hours. There was little doing in wheat yesterday, but the market was steady. Corn was reported easier, and oats quiet. New York advices were bearish until near the close, when it became known that large export orders had been taken. This had a tendency to strengthen the market here. One local dealer, who buys largely for export, says corn is now beginning to move freely. His purchases of new corn yesterday were heavy, and they have been daily growing so for the last four weeks. He anticipates an immense business in that cereal from Justice to Mr. Kimberlin. To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: Recently there appeared in your paper an item of news from Valparaiso stating that L. F. Kimberlin had kidnaped his two children and run away with them, taking them from their grandparents, to whom they had both been given by him at the death-bed of their mother; that he had fied and the grandparents were in hot pursuit. That article did great injustice to Mr. Kimberlin. The facts are: Mr. Kimberlin. with the full knowledge and consent of the grandparents, took the children with him to visit his mother, who lives on a farm near Fisher's Station, in Hamilton county, Indiana. The grandparents knew that bu; barley, 29,000 bu. he had just married again. He in-formed them that he must take his children with him to Arkansas, where he was engaged in business. The grand-parents came to Indianapolis, and met him and his wife and the children here, and stayed with them for something more than one day and night. While they were grieved and distressed at the children going away, they did not express any blame to him for taking them, as they were his own children. Mr. Kımberlin was careful to state to the grandparents and to everybody that the children and he had been treated with the greatest kindness by the grandparents, and that he was pained beond measure at the grief he was unavoidaoly compelled to cause. There was no effort to institute legal proceedings on the part of the grandparents, nor effort to escape the same on the part of Mr. Kimberin. As Mr. Kimberlin for many years was a prominent business man of this city, and quite well known, this matter ought to be set right before his acquaintances and friends.

THE FAIR THING. INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 12. Planting Nuts.

Massachusette Ploughman. If any one is willing to take a little pains now and select a lot of these fine nuts and plant them there is little doubt that they will mostly produce good fruit similar to the ones planted, with some variety, some being much better than others.

It will take a good many years before the young seedlings will come to bearing; an old man or a middle-aged man could hardly his labor except the consciousness of having done something useful for those who are to follow his foot-steps. But young men and boys may reasonably expect to live to gather nuts from trees the seed of which they have planted. One good way is to plant the seed as soor as gathered. Take a light iron bar and a pocketful of nuts, make holes with the bar | bu; sales, 2,400,000 bu futures, 328,000 bu about four inches deep and drop a nut in each. Rocky, waste land will suit them well if not already too thickly wooded; a little shelter in the way of woods and brush will assist the young tree in getting a good start. If not convenient to plant the nuts when freshly gathered they may be kept till spring by covering them with damp sand in a cool place. If there is danger that the rats or squirrels eat them, place them in common eight-inch flower pots covered with saud and invert a seven-inch pot over each one as a cover; cover the whole with sand or earth in a pit in the open air to prevent drying and severe treezing, which would break the pots. Plant early in the spring before growth begins.

If the opponents of "special" farming should look about them they would see that the men who are making the best success in other lines of employment are such as are devoting themselves to some specialty. This is true both in the business world and in the professions. The man ported an increased demand for poultry.

TRADING AT CHICAGO.

Price Current Reports the Wheat Crop Improved by Recent Rains. CHICAGO, Nov. 12 .- The wheat market opened strong to-day, but soon became quite unsettled and nervous. Early in the day reports of cold weather in the wheat belt, stronger cables and good Eastern buying, combined with the expected Russian ukase, all tended to give the market an impetus, and there was a gradual rise until a good advance was materialized. This, however, had the unfortunate effect of causing a score of nervous traders to attempt to unload while the market was momentarily at the tide, and free selling quickly brought a decline which more than swept away the advance of the earlier hours. The Michigan crop report notes an increased acreage sown to wheat, and reports conditional 91 against 105 last year. The Cincinnati Price Current says the wheat crop is improved by recent rains. The export clearances from four ports aggregated 353,000 bushels wheat and flour, and in addition New Orleans shipped 25,000 bushels. Freight room was engaged here for 370,000 bushels of wheat. Arrivals in the Northwest were smaller. Receipts at Duluth were 532 cars, and Minneapolis 326 cars-a total of 858 cars, against 1,089 cars yesterday and 607 cars a year ago. Local receipts were 452, cars, of which ninety-two cars were of contract grade. Withdrawals from store amounted to 185,-053 bushels. Receipts at all points aggregated 1,634,143 bushels and shipments from the same were 953,826 bushels. The export clearances from four ports were 28,000 barels of flour and 226,639 bushels of wheat Early in the day the strong market advanced prices 12 @ 18c, but later became weak and prices declined 1c. then rallied some, but again declined and the closing was % @ 4c lower than yesterday.

November corn opened at from 53c to 534c, and there was one sale as high as 531/2c. Then it declined to 52c, closing at 524c. Year opened with free sellers at 464c, and only a few transactions at over 46c, it subsequently worked down to 44%c, and closed at 45c bid. May started at from 43 12c to 43 14. declined to 42 %c. and closed at December oats opened at 31 %c, sold to 30 % @ 30 % c, to 80 % c, and closed at 31 12 c. Trading in May began at 32%c. The market advanced to 32 ac and then declined to 31 %c. This was followed by a recovery to 324c, and this by a drop to 32c, that being the last price made. The cash market was weak and about a cent lower. Receipts were 362 cars, and shipments 211,472 bushels, 136,811 bushels of this being loaded from unlicensed elevators.

Heavy receipts of hogs did not affect their values beyond yesterday's decline, but there was an easier feeling in provisions at the start. There were a few orders to buy at the slight decline which occurred at the opening, and the market turned around in favor of the "bulls" and closed with gains for the day of from 5c to 74c in pork, .024c in lard and from .024c to .05c

Pillow-Shams. New York Ledger. Whoever has wasted valuable moments in attempting to keep pillow-shams in their places will appreciate a simple device which holds them in position and gives very little trouble in the adjusting. On the back of the shame, at each of the upper the forward movement, as well as the specialties corners, sew a bit of tape diagonally across the corner. When the shams are put over the pillow pull a little corner of the pillow-case up through this tape-loop. Nothing further is necessary, and the shams will stay in their places unless some more than ordinary means disturbs them. This is much more simple and convenient than the various bars, frames and riggings to which many housewives think themselves compelled to resort.

It is an old-fashion notion that medicine has to taste bad to do any good. Scott's Emulsion is codliver oil with its fish-fat taste lost-nothing is lost but the taste.

This is more than a matter of comfort. Agreeable taste is always a help to digestion. A sickening taste is always a hindrance. There is only harm in taking cod-liver oil unless you digest it. Avoid the taste.
